Deputy Librarian

Business information: an essential tool of management.

Researching, acquiring, disseminating, storing and retrieving accurate, authoritative and up to date business information makes a vital contribution to the strategic management of a group of companies of the Burmah Group's size, composition and worldwide involvement.

The Deputy Librarian we appoint will be capable of providing the high level of professional expertise to the Head of Management Research Services and the Librarian within our Public Affairs Division. His or her principal tasks will include editing and compiling - often under considerable pressure, a daily digest and weekly bulletin of articles on energy and industrial developments culled from the international press; cataloguing and classifying documents; selecting and ordering essential publications; and keeping abreast of developments in information dissemination and retrieval by computerized and electronic methods. An extensive knowledge of and frequent liaison with outside sources of specialised information will be developed.

To succeed in this challenging position you need to be an Associate of the Library Association and have at least one year's experience in an industrial library and information unit.

An attractive salary around £4,000 will be negotiated and the full large-company benefits package includes assistance with relocation to the Wiltshire area where appropriate.

Please write or telephone for an application form to David Freeston, Senior Recruitment Officer, Burmah Oil Trading Limited, Burmah House, Pipers Way, Swindon, Wiltshire SN3 1RE. Tel: Swindon (0793) 30161 ext. 2482.
